Location: Southeast inclined slopes with loess in the upper soil and partly conglomerate rock in the subsoil lead to typical variety representatives with fine minerality. Vinification: Harvested, shredded, crushed, short maceration time, gently pressed in pneumatic press, temperature controlled fermentation in stainless steel tank. Then matured in stainless steel tank. Serving suggestions: Serve chilled (9-11 ° C.), to accompany grilled fish, a fish risotto; Also many cold fish appetizers are first choice for this Riesling, as well as a tender smoked salmon or bright vegetables.
