The Riesling Old Vines comes - as its name suggests - from one of our older plants. The vines were planted as early as the 1960s. They bring high quality, because the grapes and berries are very small due to the age of the vines. The ripening potential is very high. The reading is rather late. The vineyard is at about 320m above sea level on a clay soil with fluvial rocks. The Riesling Alte Reben 17 is a beautiful dry white wine with ripe fruit, fine minerality and a long finish. 10% mash fermentation surrounds the fine-fruity wine with a little tannin and ensure more full-bodied. A drinking Riesling, which is also good as a food companion to light dishes.
